More on の

    - 甘い食べ物が好きです。 – I like sweet foods.
    - 辛いのは好きじゃない。 – I don't like spicy ones.

PART III: Adjectives

形容詞

Adjectives

- い adjectives:
  - 赤い（あかい/akai）
  - 早い（はやい/hayai）
  - いい（ii）
- な adjectives:
  - 静か（しずか/shizuka）
  - 好き（すき/suki）
  - 嫌い（きらい/kirai）

- い adjectives:
  - Always end with い.
  - Usually conjugated like this:
    - 赤い – red
    - 赤くない – not red
  - The pattern for conjugating these is:
    - Drop the い, attach a く, and then add your ending!
      - 赤くない
  - Many い adjectives ending with しい are about feelings! Use this to help remember them!

な adjectives:

- These are descriptive “nouns” that are used as adjectives.
- They are always followed by な.
- These aren’t exactly conjugated, but you can still achieve the same effect with です.
  - へんです – It is strange.
  - へんでした – It was strange.

More on the ～ない form of な adjectives

- い adjectives → ～くない
- な adjectives → ～じゃない/ではない
  - Ex:
    - 必要(ひつよう)じゃないものです。(It's an unnecessary thing.)
  - ではない is also technically the ～ない form of だ/です.

Adjectives with Nouns

い adjectives:

えいが　おもしろ
映画は面白くないです。

な adjectives:

あんぜん　ばしょ
安全な場所です。

PART IV: Verbs

動詞

Verbs

- All Japanese verbs end with the う sound.
- There are 2 groups that affect conjugation:
  - Ichidan: “one step” verbs, always end with る, and simply drop the る and conjugate from there
    - Ex: たべる → たべない
  - Godan: “five step” verbs, end with any う sound and are conjugated from their “root”.
    - Ex: 行く → 行かない
  - Godan verb conjugation have a lot of patterns, which aren’t hard but need to be memorized.

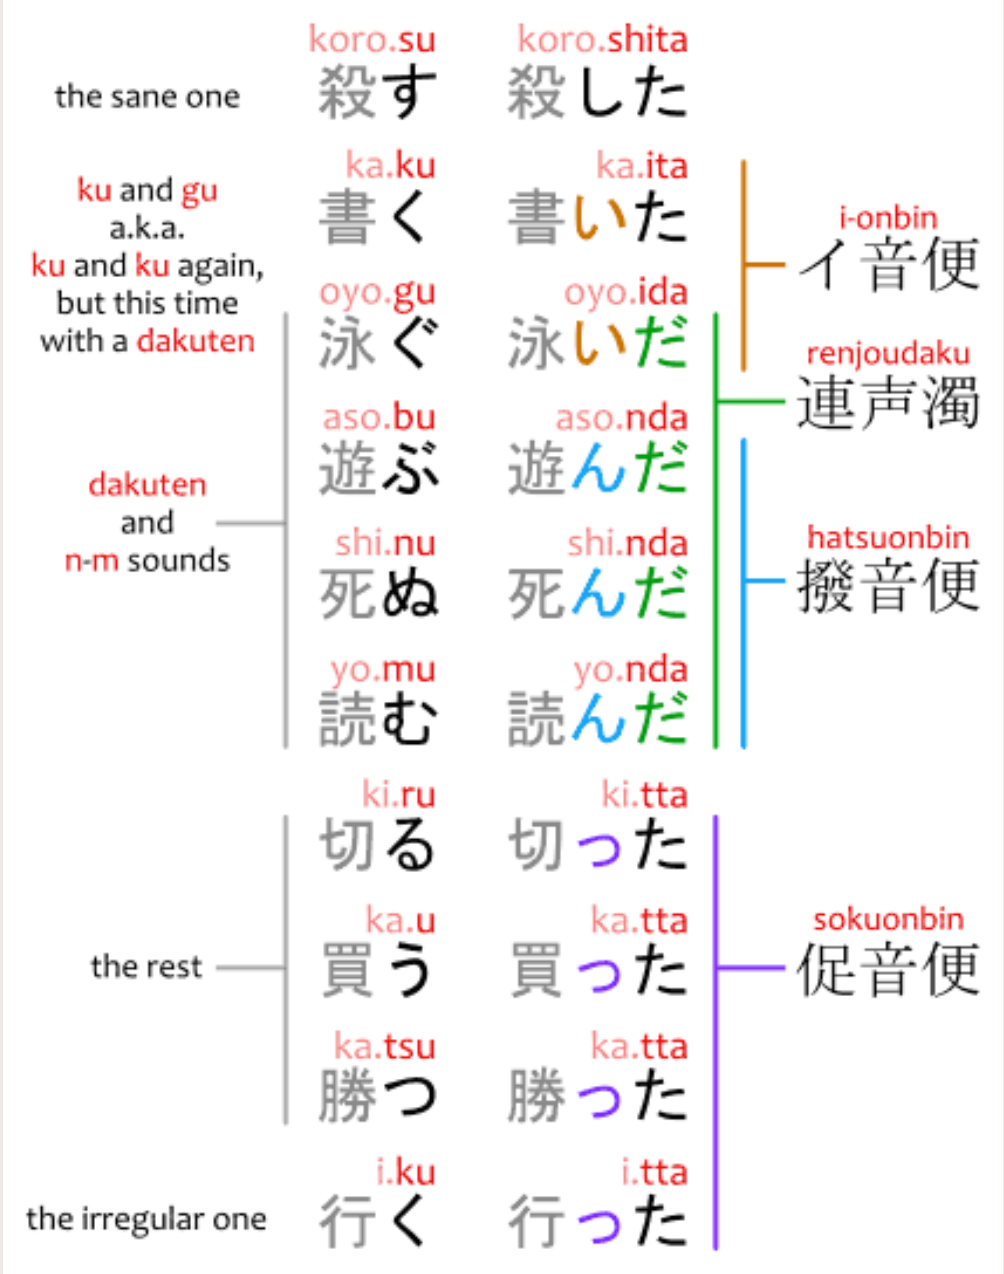

- Japanese verbs can augment nouns!
  - 食べる人 = person who eats
  - Whole phrases can describe nouns, and these are called relative clauses.

- There are only two truly irregular verbs in Japanese: する and 来る, to do and to come.

Dictionary (Plain Present)	する (suru)	くる (kuru)
Polite (Masu)	します (shimasu)	きます (kimasu)
Negative (Plain)	しない (shinai)	こない (konai)
Past (Plain)	した (shita)	きた (kita)

Verbs

- This is a verb chart for conjugating godan verbs to the past tense ~た form.
- There are many more verb forms, but most of their conjugations fall into these groups.

More about Anki

- Anki doesn't show you the same cards each time, instead spacing them out depending on how well you know them.

- After you flip a card, these buttons will decide how long it will be until you see that card again.

- Anki isn't just useful for Japanese, it's also great for any other subjects that require a lot of memorization.

Thank you!
